Young Men, call and see the new Kuppenheimer sport suits they are showing at The S. M. Jones Co.

Apparently the shermen who went out on strike at Hickory, N. C., at the same time the strike was called on other railroads throughout the country, have lost their fight. It will be recalled that the "Hickory shermen" who work for the Carolina & North-Western Railway, were not affected by the ruling of the labor board's decision but acted in accordance with the wishes of other striking shermen. New men were secured by the Carolina & North-Western management and the new "upstarts," that none of the old men have as yet been taken back on the job. Some of them have left Hickory, while others have secured local fall stands. It is stated that the railway company has a full force of men.

Remember—Next Monday night, at the Chester Opera House, Chester people will have an opportunity to see "The Bat," one of the greatest plays of the day. A part of the cast coming to Chester is the original New York cast. The show is absolutely refined and is drawing large crowds in all the cities in which it plays. The admission will be: Dress Circle $1.00; Orchestra $2.00, plus war tax.

About the happiest-run community in the South is the S. M. Jones Company. The news reporter has run across in many moons is Joe Jackson, colored, who has been farming on Mr. R. L. Haffner's plantation for the past year. Joe was in The S. M. Jones Company yesterday afternoon selling cotton and when he settled and was having his papers he proceeded to demonstrate his happiness by what one might term a "shouting spell," and he more he jumped the higher he flew until he lost his mind and cooled down.

A decided success was the Rally Day at Bethel M. E. church in Chester, Sunday. This attendance was 527 and a special collection amounted to $655. This money goes to the new school building fund, which now amounts to about $4,000, which has been secured from various sources by the church. The Sunday school at Bethel has become so large that a new building is almost a necessity and it is hoped that sufficient amount will be received soon which will enable those in charge to go ahead with the erection of the building, which will join the present church building.

Miss Lucile Cassels spent the weekend in Charlotte with Mrs. B. S. Cassels.

Talk Of The Town: That line of dresses at Wylie's.

Mr. J. L. Simmons, who is very much interested in the Chester Community Building, has received a check for $100 from Hon. Wm. D. Mallon, president of the University of South Carolina and who was elected as Moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of South Carolina at the year meeting in Chester recently. Mr. Mallon is a former resident of Chester and when a young man was in the employ of Mr. Simmons, who took the matter of a contribution to the Community Building up with Mr. Mallon personally last week, with result that a handsome check came forward.

The next sale for "The Bat" will be shown at the Chester Opera House next Monday evening, October 16th, will be played on sale next Friday morning at the Chester Drug Store. This play is decidedly the best that has been to Chester in a long time and it's a show that is being seen by packed houses in the leading cities throughout the country. The company only plays four towns in South Carolina. Greenville, Chester, Columbia and Charleston.

Buy That Boy's winter suit at Wylie's, two pair of pants, it will suit you to see them.

What yesterday appeared to be a "political battle" over the office of local Magistrate has quieted down and in all probability the office will now go to Mr. Z. V. Davidson when Magistrate H. H. Shannon's resignation becomes effective. November first. Several names had been suggested for the place and yesterday a "battleground" between Mr. Davidson and Mr. S. Churchill Carter was apparently approaching. However, The News understands that Mr. Carter withdrew from the field leaving the matter to Mr. Davidson. His appointment has already been taken up with Governor Harvey and word from that source is now being looked for.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Chester on November 11th, 1922, to fill the position of rural carrier for Port Lanes. The minimum salary for carriers is $1,800 per year. The examination is open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of the postoffice where the office is being filled. Those who may be interested can secure particulars by calling on Mr. R. H. Clowney, at the Chester postoffice.

Many Chester friends and acquaintances learned with sorrow of the death of Colonel J. Rice Smith, father of Mrs. E. P. Calhoun, of Chester, which occurred suddenly in Augusta, Ga., this morning at five o'clock. Col. Smith became ill at five o'clock this morning and at five o'clock passed into the great beyond. He will be pleasantly remembered in Chester as having made an address here at the Confederate Soldiers' Reunion. He was seventy-six years of age. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Calhoun, Rice Estes and Sarah Goss, children of Mr. Smith, left this morning for Augusta to attend the funeral.

Stronger Than The Law shows best work shops on earth. Do not accept a substitute. They can only be had at Wylie's.

The Russian Symphony Orchestra of New York City will be heard at the Chester Opera House tonight under the auspices of the Women's Council of the Chester Chamber of Commerce. The orchestra, consisting of forty-five pieces, furnished the music for the Mide-In-Carolinas exposition, in Charlotte, last week.

A marriage which came as a surprise to many friends was that of Miss Olive Crowder and Mr. Hugh D. Colman, which was consummated at Purvis Presbyterian manse. Sunday morning at six-fifty-five o'clock. Dr. H. H. Colman, who is officiating. Mr. Colman is former manager of Dreamland Theatre and is one of Chester's most popular young men. Mr. Colman, whose home is in Rome, Ga., has been in Chester for the past year as manager of The Theatre. The wedding party included many friends coming here. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland, on Smith street.

Mr. William H. Gladden has returned to Asheville after spending two weeks in Chester with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Ghedd, who hosts the affair accompanied by Mr. B. T. Towner, of Plum Branch.

We Are Having the best dress business in our history. Why? Wylie & Co.

Many Chester people are of the opinion that Judge Pennington gave the bootleggers what was coming to them in the way of road sentences. The News wishes that it had space to give the 'various prohibition cases which were tried before Judge Sease in Picken county last week. In the majority of cases, and there were many, Judge Sease sentenced the bootleggers to twelve months and a fine of $1,000.

Mr. W. F. Marion, cotton statistician for Chester county, reported "pick up" for September. This year Chester county had gained 5,620 bales of cotton as compared with 5,330 for the same period last year.

Dr. W. E. Wallace, of Chester, has been appointed a member of the State Board of Health to succeed late Dr. Walker, of York.

Cats, Suits and dresses arriving on every train. We are ready to wear. Wylie & Co.

The H-Y is again in session. At the last meeting the new officers were elected as follows: Vice-President, Colman Hill; Rice-President, Chalmers Davidson; Secretary, H. H. Clowney; Treasurer, T. O. Gaudin. It is making a study of the Old Testament characters under the competent management of Mr. Rufus Morgan. It asks for the prayers of the Chesterians.

Great Falls News Items

Great Falls, S. C., Oct. 9.—Little Elizabeth—Eleven months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Ligon, died of pneumonia Saturday morning. The funeral and burial services were conducted by Rev. J. E. Brown at Roseville Sunday afternoon. We extend to the bereaved family our deepest sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ferris spent Thursday and Friday in Columbia. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Johnson, who remained in Columbia for a visit of several weeks.

The Young Ladies of the Teachers' dormitory gave an old-fashioned party Friday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jackson, who are returning to their former home, Winder, Ga. The guests were: Readings by Misses Hall and Shively, and piano and violin selections by Misses Sutherland and Shively, were thoroughly enjoyed.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the local Presbyterian church will be held in Richmond, in response to an invitation from the Christian Endeavor society of that church, and rendered a program at 7:30 Sunday evening. The Great Falls society was well represented and an interesting program was given.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Blackwell, of Wm. D. Blackwell, of Greenville, spent Sunday and Monday in Great Falls, the guests of Mrs. Jennie McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell returning via Greenville "in their touring car." The guests of Mrs. Jennie McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell returning via Greenville "in their touring car."

Rev. Roy Brown of Richmond, and Rev. W. J. Hunsyett exchanged pulpits Sunday morning. Mr. Brown preached at Great Falls, and Mr. Hunsyett at Cedar Shoals, where he has been assisting Mr. Brown in a series of meetings.

Miss Carrie Wren McLaughlin, of Lancaster, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. E. A. Ferris. Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jackson left Sunday morning for their former home at Winder, Ga. Mr. Jackson has spent the past six or eight months on one of the electrical power plants at the Seaboard Air Line Company's station, but received orders a few days ago to report at his old post at Winder, Monday, October 9th. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have made many friends in Great Falls who regret to see them leave.

We are glad to report that Mrs. James Goodelock, who has been a patient in Chester Sanatorium, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

MRS. ANNIE POWELL BITTEN BY TARANTULA. Anderson, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Annie Powell had a narrow escape from death Thursday when she was bitten by a tarantula. As soon as Mrs. Powell felt the sting she realized what had happened and caught her finger with her hand and held it tightly until a cord could be tied around it, waiting the coming of a physician. This kept the poison from going over her body. Mrs. Powell had pulled a tarantula from a bunch when the tarantula bit her. She took it off, and the terrible spider scolded this happened in the Anderson mill office.

Judge Pennington Sends Bootleggers to the Roads—Some of Them Got Off With Fines—Much Interest Displayed.

The court house was crowded practically all of last week with many who were anxious to hear the sentences that Judge Pennington was to give the various bootleggers, some of whom had pled guilty and others who were convicted.

The sentences were held over until Friday afternoon and it was then that those in the dock knew just how much time was coming their way.

Those who were caught before August first were allowed to pay a fine in accordance with the agreement made by the Solicitor, but those who were caught after that date were given no alternative and were sent to the roads.

Those sentenced were as follows, all of them being charged with bootlegging: John Wallace—6 months, or fine of $100.00.

Boys Drummer—6 months, or fine of $100.00. Carl Wilks—One year, six months, suspended during good behavior.

John McDonald—One year, three months to be suspended during good behavior. J. H. Featherstone, one year, nine months, suspended.

Howard Hays, six months, or fine of $100.00. Thomas Young, one year, six months, suspended.

Joe Walker, one year, six months, suspended. Lizzie Woodward, six months, or fine of $100.00.

John Cornwell, six months, or fine of $100.00. W. P. Barron and James Paul, one year, six months suspended for form; one year, 9 months suspended for later during good behavior.

Gill Robinson, one year, six months, suspended. Harvey McCullough, six months, or fine of $100.00.

Wade Sawyer, six months, or fine of $100.00. Jonas McCullough, six months, or fine of $100.00.

Will Coleman, six months, or fine of $100.00.

Those sentenced for other offenses than violation of the prohibition law are as follows: Gusie Belle Johnson, bigamy, six months, or fine of $500.

Frank Hardin, assault and battery with intent to kill, six months, or fine of $100.00.

Samuel Moore, assault and battery with intent to kill, eighteen months.

Creo-pine Shingles Show a Smaller Upkeep Cost than any other form of Roofing

Wooden shingles when properly treated are the ideal roofing material.

By the high power hydraulic process of creosoting Creo-pine shingles the undiluted creosote oil thoroughly penetrates the pores of the wood. Moisture, rain, frost, or sun cannot cause decay or rot.

Nails driven into untreated shingles rust and wear loose causing leaks in the roof. Nails driven into Creo-pine shingles do not rust and hold firmly for many years.

Roofs of Creo-pine shingles have been in service for fifteen years with no upkeep whatever, and at the end of that time were in good condition.

Creo-pine shingles are very little, if any, higher than heart pine shingles, cheaper than red cedar shingles and composition roofing and last much longer. They are cleaner to handle than dipped shingles and make a neat, attractive slate roof appearance.

Call on us and let us tell you all about the Creo-Pine Shingles.

H. L. SCHLOSBERG.
Twenty-eight years in South Carolina—28 years of value giving to the public—28 years of fair and square dealing—Mr. Schlosberg invites the public to attend Chester's greatest merchandising triumph.

Schlosberg Staging Great Merchandising Sensation

H. L. SCHLOSBERG is launching one of the best and biggest sales of up-to-date, reasonable merchandise for men, women and children ever known here. Mr. Schlosberg, proprietor of this well-known store, and who enjoys the patronage of people from Chester and all surrounding territory, wishes, to state to the public that this is truly a wonderful saving event, and he cordially invites the public to come and inspect the wonderful values to be offered during this Carnival of Bargains. Mr. Schlosberg has been very fortunate in securing such big concessions on high grade merchandise, and that's why this sale is possible. The public will receive the benefit of our lucky purchases from the big wholesalers and manufacturers. And Mr. Schlosberg wishes to state again that the same policy that has always been carried by this store will prevail throughout the sale. Any unsatisfactory purchase will be adjusted to satisfy the customer. Fair and square dealing is the motto of this store, regardless of sale or no sale. We do not conduct sales to the public unless we have got the merchandise to back it, and at this time we know that we are in a position to put over a sale of this kind. You will buy clean, up-to-date merchandise, in all the latest styles, fashions and fads, and at prices that are the lowest ever offered here. We expect very large crowds from Chester, and we certainly expect our out-of-town customers and friends to come and visit our greatest showing of bargains since our establishment in this city. The arrangement and decorations and displays of the beautiful lines of wearing apparel is under the direction of an expert decorator, and will be worth coming miles to see. This event will be long remembered after the final curtains are drawn. Please give this sale your closest consideration, and note the many values advertised in the advertisement. There is no obligation for visiting the sale, so be sure to come and see for yourself. I thank you. H. L. SCHLOSBERG.

Glad Chester Pastor Has Accepted

It was our privilege to preach for our first church people in Charlotte last Sabbath and be present at the rally and promotion day exercises in the Sabbath school. It had twelve elders and quite a number of deacons. The people are delighted that Dr. Phillips has accepted their call and will take up the work about the first of November. Rev. E. F. Griffith will moderate the call next Sabbath. There will also be an ordination and installation of deacons on that day. The officers of this church have a beautiful custom of assembling in the pastor's study a few minutes before the beginning of each service and invoking the divine blessing upon the minister and the service about to be held. We commend this custom to other sessions. Their pastors will preach better—Associate Reform Presbyterian.

INVITE GREEK ARMY TO EVACUATE THRACE

London, Oct. 7.—An official communique was issued last night after a full cabinet meeting, recommending at 9:30 o'clock to consider a dispatch from Lord Curzon at Paris.

"Mr. Poincaré and Lord Curzon reached an agreement this afternoon that the Greek army should be invited to evacuate eastern Thrace on the understanding that the allies should occupy the evacuated territory for a period of 30 days from the date of the completion of the evacuation of the Greek forces, in order to guarantee the safety of the non Turkish population."

population. "This agreement now must be presented to the Turkish representative at Mudania on the understanding that effect there to will only be given if the Turkish representatives accept the remaining conditions laid down in the allied note of September 23, particularly respecting the non-Muslims on both sides of the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles."

TUCKER HELD IN
ABDUCTION CASE

Charged With Conspiracy With Jenkins in Whipping Girl. He Hails From Florida and is Traveling Auditor for Charles Broadway House.

Winston-Salem, Oct. 7.—F. A. Tucker, credit man and traveling auditor for Charles Broadway House, of New York city, whose home is at Palatka, Fla., is in jail here in default of a $5,000 bond, charged with conspiracy with S. L. Jenkins, of this city, in the recent Taylorville assault and kidnapping case. Mrs. Charles S. Webb and Jenkins were taken from an automobile and the girl given violent treatment.

Evidence implicating Tucker in the conspiracy was secured a day or two ago by J. C. Gold, acting for the Ku Klux Klan national organization, which is actively prosecuting a thorough investigation of the affair because the perpetrators adopted the regalia of the Klan to further their scheme.

The warrant upon which Tucker was arrested was issued from Alexander county.

The date for the hearing has not been set, this awaiting the execution of five other warrants against Jenkins in Ashe and Alleghany counties also alleged to be implicated in the kidnapping and assault.

Tucker denies that he had any part in the assault at Taylorville, declaring that when the hearing is held he will be able to prove an alibi in that he was not in the vicinity of Taylorville on the night of the hold up.

It is reported that an inventor after 13 years of experimenting has succeeded in producing unbreakable glass. Some of the tests are throwing plates from a height of 12 feet to the ground, standing a temperature of 750 degrees and driving a nail into wood with a cup. This means the saving of thousands of dollars each year in hotel equipment.

TO THOSE INTERESTED IN RADIO

The approaching six months will probably bring with them favorable weather for the reception of the extensive Radio programs that are being constantly broadcasted all over this great country of ours, and they are free to all those who are equipped for their reception.

Just think of it being possible to sit around your own fireside and hear the foremost musicians, speakers and other entertainments such as market reports, sporting news and a little more patience or you can buy your set already made and installed in your parlor or sitting room. In either case it will pay you in dollars and cents to connect somebody who has had actual experience along that line and not pay too much attention to the propaganda that is being constantly dished out to the public.

If you are going to buy outright buy a standard make of apparatus that you can rely on or buy standard parts from a carefully prepared list; in other words standard apparatus whether already assembled or not will not only save you money but will reduce your possibilities of failure to the minimum.

About a year ago I like thousands of others became intensely interested in the subject and have used every available means to post myself as thoroughly as possible and since then have had considerable experience from both a theoretical and practical standpoint and the information that I have gained is for the benefit of any who may be interested.

I am the authorized dealer in this locality for several of the most popular lines of Radio apparatus on the market in both completed and practical standpoint and the information that I have gained is for the benefit of any who may be interested.

I will appreciate a liberal share of your patronage.
Yours for service,

SHIPS MUST STOP
HAULING LIQUOR

Washington, Oct. 7.—The government today drew up regulations providing in effect that American ships can neither sell nor transport liquor anywhere, and that the prohibition applies to all ships within the three-mile limit.

At the same time Albert D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board, and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, acting by direction of President Harding, took preliminary steps to enforce the regulations. Lasker notified the operators of all shipping board vessels that the sale of liquor on board must be stopped immediately, while Secretary Mellon notified owners and operators of other American vessels.

Secretary Mellon also notified foreign shipping interests of the decision which, by order of the President, will not become effective in their use until October 14.

Will Sorghum Poison Livestock?

A Reader asks: "Will orange cane or sorghum kill or injure horses or cattle in any way?"
Under certain conditions the sorghums sometimes develop a deadly poison (prussic acid) in such quantities to kill livestock that eat even a small quantity of the plants. It is also claimed that Sudan grass and Johanna grass, which are non-saccharine (not sweet) sorghums, also sometimes develop this poison, that is probably safe to state that the sweet sorghums more frequently develop the poison than do the non-saccharine sorghums, although it is comparatively rare that any of them poison livestock.

The poison seems more likely to develop in the second growth, especially if this second growth is sprayed by dry weather or other causes. In fact, a stunted growth, or injury of the growth from any cause, seems to favor the development of the poison. It is rare, if it ever occurs, that there is any poison in sorghum when it makes a free, rapid, or natural growth.

There is no record, so far as we can find, of sorghum made into hay or silage injuring livestock in this way.

It is so rare that poison develops in sorghums that it is doubtful if this should lessen the growth or use of this excellent forage crop for the South. But when the growth is stunted and especially when the second growth which comes on after it has been cut once is stunted, any sorghum should be exercised in grazing such stunted growth while it is green. It should not be grazed under such conditions unless first tried with an animal of little value. Possibly the best plan is not to pasture a stunted growth of sorghum, but wait until it starts growing freely again or to make it into hay—The Progressive Farmer.

ORANGEBURG NEGRO
DIES FROM WOUNDS

Coroner's Jury Accuses Officers Who Shot Negro—Jury Verdict—

Orangenburg, Oct. 8.—John Gover, negro bricklayer, died of wounds inflicted last Sunday by George W. Dukes and J. W. Spears, local officers, when he played bad man in the New Brookland suburb of Orangenburg. Gover had been drunk all day Sunday, terrifying his community by shooting his pistol, refusing to let negroes go to church, and an automobile, tried to enter some of a woman who was ill, pulled the trigger of his pistol while he pointed it at a negro, but it had been fired out. As the signs were beyond the city limits Magistrate Blackmon, Constable Dukes and Special Officer Spears went to the home of Gover, talked to him to come out, telling him who they were and Gover came out with his double barrel gun and levelled it at the officers. About this time Officer Dukes fired a load of buckshot into Gover and Officer Spears fired a pistol ball through the fleshy part of the stomach.

The wounds were not in themselves sufficient to cause death, but some foreign matter was carried into the body by a bullet, which developed an infection, and caused death. The negro lived several days. The coroner's jury found that the negro came to his death from wounds inflicted by Officers Dukes and Spears in the discharge of their duty.

Must Sell Cotton Through Co-operative Body. Injunction Granted Yesterday by Judge T. J. Mauldin at Columbia.

Columbia, S. C.—An injunction restraining John R. Pope of Marlboro county from disposing of any of his cotton except through the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative association was served upon Mr. Pope at this home, some eight miles from Charleston, yesterday, it was announced last night by officials of the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative association.

The injunction was granted by Judge T. J. Mauldin in Columbia yesterday, in a similar case by Douglas McKay, state counsel of the co-operative association, alleging that Mr. Pope had disposed of some cotton, which, it was alleged, he had contracted to sell through the association. The complaint alleged that Mr. Pope had sold some cotton at a private sale to Joseph J. Evans of Bennettsville, is associated with Mr. McKay in the case.

Officials of the association stated last night that Mr. Pope was the only member out of the over 17,000 members of the association that it has been forced to bring legal proceedings against. Not another alleged violation of the contract has been made, it was said.

Under the provisions of the special act passed at the 1921 session of the general assembly any member of the association violating the contract is liable to a penalty of five cents a pound on all cotton sold outside of the association.

The great majority of the farmers who signed the contract did so because of its binding features," said Harry K. Kohnert, president, and general manager of the association, last night. "There is practically a unanimous sentiment among members that the association vigorously enforce the contract and that every provision of the special act passed by the general assembly be taken advantage of in its enforcement. We propose to do so."

In Oklahoma cases were recently brought against several local producers of the contract. One of the members has voluntarily paid the five cents a pound penalty and all of them have been restrained from selling any cotton except through the association. Arkansas has reported the violation of the contract and Georgia one.

PSYCHOLOGY.

By H. Addington Bruce.

Many people, I find, are narrowly identifying psychology with psychoanalysis. This is, perhaps not surprising, in view of the extent to which public attention is being focused on psychoanalysis nowadays. But it is important to recognize that psychoanalysis is actually only one mode or method of psychology, which may briefly yet sufficiently be defined as the treatment of disease by mental means. Such treatment, it is long before treatment by drugs or surgery was dreamed of. To our earliest ancestors sickness was an affliction imposed by angry or malevolent spiritual beings. We place them, or to invoke the aid of well-disposed spirits, various ceremonial rites were developed, and magic was made by the tribal "medicine man."

This was psychology in its first crudest phase. When it "worked," as psychologists nowadays know well, it produced in the minds of those for whose benefit it was undertaken, a relief from their suffering. Their belief in its efficacy liberated in them energy adequate to overcome the disease by which they had been attacked. The same holds true as regards the various "faith cures" of modern psychology in its vogue today. It is, even including psychology by the use of charms and amulets, are undoubtedly potent in the treatment of many maladies. Gradually, however, as a more exact knowledge of disease was gained, it was found advisable to utilize physical as well as psychic instrumentalities for the restoration to health. Also it was found that psychotherapy itself could be utilized to serve purpose when administered under special conditions recognized to make the mind more receptive to its healing suggestions.

Hence the practice arose of mesmerizing or hypnotizing patients deemed proper subjects for psychotherapeutic treatment. This was the first step in mental medicine of a truly scientific sort.

The second result from the discovery that in many cases special rather than general suggestions had to be given and that a searching mental exploration often had to be made to get at ideas latent in patients' minds. All unknown to them, these ideas were the agents causing or at least provoking their ill health and must be brought out if relief was to be obtained.

Psychoanalysis is one of the means by which this mental exploration and burrowing is carried on. Hypnotism, the method devised by Boris Bida, is another. Both psychoanalysis and hypnotism also possess in themselves a certain psychotherapeutic value. For frequently it happens that once the hidden mental causes of sickness are unearthed there is a spontaneous return to health.

At times, places, it may confidently be predicted, additional scientific aids to psychotherapy will be acquired. Which does not mean, though, that psychotherapy or the general "faith cure" type will disappear.

It is too genuinely useful to be completely ousted. But there undoubtedly will come, as there should, clearer appreciation of the types of patients for whom it is appropriate and the types that will best respond to the more erudite methods of the psychoanalyst and their scientific kin.

This is the pathway of real progress in the psychoneurotic field.

To make children familiar with the basis of all real and incontestable progress, the city of Wichita, Kansas, is establishing, in its environs, a $30-acre farm, on which high school pupils will be instructed in agriculture.

"Slimy Taste"

"When I feel stout, get constipated, or bilious, I take a good dose or two of Black-Draught and it sets me straight," writes Mr. George Halstead, of R. F. D. 2, Columbia, S. C. "It cleanses the liver and I feel all right, and have not used any other medicine as I do not see the need of it. I am a guard at the State Reformatory, and have been for three or more years. When I first heard of and the good medicine it was, I had been having a tired feeling when I'd get up in the morning. I would be stiff and sore, and had a slimy, bad taste in my mouth, but didn't think so much of it till I began to feel stout and didn't feel like eating—then I knew I needed medicine. It was then I began Black-Draught, and I felt all made over, ready for any kind of work, ready to eat and sleep. So, for any return of this trouble, I take Black-Draught, and for 25 years it has been my medicine, and I wouldn't be without it at all. My work is constant. I am on my feet a lot. I am out of doors, and fresh air and Black-Draught are all the medicine I need. I recommend it to others for I know it is good."
